note some of the things which he has lately written. The fallowing appears, over his intials, in the East Oregonana of Friday hast. The "lady clerks" have either found situations or gone flome to cry over disappointment, the latter number being much the larger. The ladies, no doubt, make quite suitable and efficient clerks in many instances, but it is a question if it is not better to employ men only, for the reason that the hope of employment brings many here to wait a long time in suspense, and then go away discomined. In several his ances ladies came here from different parts of the state, waited a week or two, boarding perhaps at a hotel, and went home at last without securing a position. And of course every one of them is from this time henceforth a sworm enemy of every legislator—until next time, which likely she will be base, similing series and sweet, eshing for another favor of the same sert. After all, if the clerkships are all they are after, I don't see that they lose much.

atter, I don't see that they lose much

But some of the committee clerks are looking for a 'soft job' instead of hard work. Having a long bil that I wished coded the other day, t

The committee had under advisement to day senate bill number 10, which provides for the repayment to certain counties of mortgage taxes tend the state, but which the sher fig were enjoined by Jonge Jeady from collecting. I find that leady's intwarrant alle interference with the execution of state laws is quite generally condomined, and a bill is now pending which, it is hoped, will prevent in future his arrogation of judicial functions belonging by right exclusively to the state courts.

The Portland railroad bridge bill will come up

The Portland railroad bridge bill will come up to due for second reading, and will come up several radical amendments. It is aspected that the governor will veto the bill howaver amended, but its friends hope to pass it over his veto. Careful scruting is necessary to present the granting of too much power in the matter of fixing tells and charges.

The second reading of bills progresse i rap I by sestering in the senate, and some of minor importance will probably be put up in final parasage toward the close of this week. More important measures will have to progress more six why my mortgage-tax bill is now in the hands of the committee. Its features are quite generally commended, and I hope for the pasage of some of the more important of them, at least

There is nothing new for the last two or three days in the timutals county division mutar, except that Weston has a delegate here in the person of tharles McMorris, who has a petition for division on the Weston line—running below Adams. It is supposed that the Miton people will finally come to this, if they see no prospect of carring out their criginal plan. The fact that this would probably make a ripublican county is counted on as baying some weight with the majority of the legislature.

Of the chances of teanonitment I know no

Of the chances of teappointment I know no more than I dul a week ago. A GREAT CANAL RUINED.

The Chesspeaks & Ohlo Canal Encoumbs Under Railroad Competition.

The Chesansake A Ohio canal, says a Balti-

Now, however, President Baughman, after a year of unusual misfortunes with accidents and leaks, in his annual report made last week, frankly says that if the cana're commend it must be nided by the state of Maryland or the general government.

This canal has a most interesting history. It was the first great work of its kind in this country. Washington was its projector. His scheme was to form a chain of internal improvements by the route of the Potomac and across the monitalist of the navigable waters which flow into the Ohlie river. As early as 1771 he secured the passage of a law by the legislature of Virginia for the opening of the Potomac to navigation. The enterprise, however, lagged, and obstructions of war and covery postponed it, although a company was formed with Washington as the president. It was not until 1420 that the work was pushed with vigor. By Esca aboard of engineers had examined it and computed the cost at $55., $90. (80). The following jear the light for the canal was made. Just then the Estimore A Ohio railroad was passing westward, and it tried to close the across the canal. The crustest was vigorous. WASHINGTON LETTER.

Dolph's Speech on Improvement of the Upper Colombia River.

The Morthern Pacific Land Grant-The Indian Enhaels of the Northwest-The Roses and Thomas of Society.

pundence of the Sunday Oregonian green correspondence of the sunday oregonant Washington, Jan. 14—In beginning his speech, delivered in the senate on the 11th inst., on his resolution submitted last month, looking to the establishment of a boat railway at the dailes of the Columbia, Senator Dolph said that if the subject of overcoming obstructions to nav-igation in our navigable rivers by means of boat raniways were not comparatively new he should copy the senate upon the resolution He oued, by the remarks which he should submit o call the attention of the senate to the project, n particular, of overcoming the rapids on the columbia by means of a boat railway, and genarally to the subject of the practicability and recommy of overcoming similar obstructions in ther navigable waters of the United States

Speaking of the peculiar and extraordinary tration of the people living east of a Cascades and that their only natnral outlet is the pass known as the gerge of the Columbia, the speaker said gorge of the Columbia, and speaker.

This pass is substantially controlled by a single company, which owns a rairoad upon the Oregon side of the river, a portage rairoad upon the north side of the rapids, and the principal, if not all the boats engaged in navigating the apper Columbia, and thes without competition enabled to make and maintain its own rates of freights and fares. As a consequence of this condition of affairs the freight rates, both by river and by rail, between the interior and the ecaboard are enormously high. I think it is doubtful if in any other portion of the United States the cost of transportation is so great certainly not in any portion affording an equal amount of business for transportation lines. BELIEF TO BE FOUND IN WATER TRANSPORTA TION.

The Dalles board of trade, giving examples of the schedule of rates to way points on the rail road, was read A carbad of merchandise to road, was read A carboad of merchandise to any of these way points from Cheago is delivered at the way point without going through to Portland, and the freight scharge thereon consist of the full through rate to Portland, plus the local freight on merchandise from Portland to the way point. Mr. Dolph said he has little faith that legislation will prove effectual in reducing, regulating and controlling freights. Water transportation, however, according both to experence and the opinion of the best in formed men of the country is an effectual means of reducing and regulating the cost of transportation.

of reducing and regulating are test. A station, there is no doubt, it was stated, that the Catmbla treer will in time be improved by the general government so as to a init of un obstructed navigation for a thousand miles from its mouth, and there is no other portion of the country where so great a benefit to the inhabit faints of so extensive a region can be example for so small an outlay. The only questions are, how shall the river be improved, and when shall the intercements be commenced?

for so small an outlay. The only questions are, how shall the river be improved, and whon shall the improvements be commenced?

To quate "The extracted cast of the component at the dalles pot age of the component at the dalles are the component at the control to the component at the component are completed with the component are complete on the control dalles are complete dark the component are complete dark the component are complete and the same time are complete dark to the control dalles are complete dark to component and the full benefit to be darked from each will not be secured until the other is compoled.

Speaking with special reference to the blat railway the speaker said. "The only question it appears to me, worthy of consideration in determining whether the work shall be undertaken at once is its practicability. If the opin the speakers can be railed upon that is astaken at once is its practicability. If the opinions of engineers can be relied upon that is assured. But if it be admitted that it would to a certain extent be an experiment, who has a greater interest in making the experiment and fasting the practicability of boat railways than the federal government of it should prove a success the government would be able to substitute rullways for canals at one-eighth of the coast of the inter, and the people would also be greatly benefited by securing at a much earlier date the unobstructed navigation of the waterways of the country. But the project of a beat railway is not a visionary one of one of the greatest engineers in this or any other country has projected a railway from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean on Mexican soil, by which it is proposed to take ships with their cargoes weighing 7000 tous from one ocean, and, transporting them with speed and safety, deposit them in the other, and has organized a company to construct it. I am satisfied of the practicability of that great work, compared to which railroad for the transportation of boats, which can be newgated on the upper Columbia, around The Dalles and Cehlo water.

view to teeting the practicability of s boat railways for canals as a means of vert a unital ing such obstructions. Never in the life by of this country has there been a more a separation time for the commencement of such a work, and trying the experiment, if it be called such and trying the experiment, if it be called sinch.

Referring to the Northern Pacific land grant, on the 114 mile I and, it trees Wal u a and Portland, it was stated since I have been a member of the search I are entroyely and be sistently endeand an in source the Orletture by congress of this port on I the Northern I reflect land grant, but so far without success. The value of the lands with which he received to the public domain by such a tages, and a time is greater than the cost of inquiving the I alvocate to-day, from its mouth to tend Hippid thus securing moberated river wall, this is greater than the cost of inquiving the item at the dates of the almost rotted river wall, this is a distance of 100 miles?

Saak by an anythert melt it is standard with the proposed boat railway, and believing that the dates of the almost, and their practicularity of the proposed boat railway, and believing that the work ought to be come used without the lar, my colleagues and myself will enlieved the secure at the present session of congress an appropriate in the continued without the mirror shall not be expended intia a survey has been made by a competent load and if the plan of the work has been approved by the secretary of war work that the mirror shall not be expended intia a survey has been made by a competent load and if the plan of the work has been approved by the secretary of war.

IMPORTANT MEASURES

Up to this writing the measure that has at tracted the greatest attention in the house duting the week has been the kidmunds anti-plygamy bill and the Tucker substitute therefor The gold of the Mormon church that was sent here in not small amon its to deteat this measure actionity was not affective as it has been in here in not small amon its to defeat this measure evidently was not effective as it has been in former years. On motion to equivalent the radical house substitute for the senate bid, the former was passed without distant, only eight members rising to demand the years and mays it is claimed by the supporters if this substitute that if the senate shall adopt it, and it shall be consider into a law and supplemented by the proposed constitutional amendment, without will soon to pieces, so far at least as ping amy is concerned, that Utah will soon be set lied by a free people, and that soon she will be ready to come into the Union as a state. The measure that has been the center of interest in the senate is the interest the commerce bill. Compared with the interest it has created the nation over, the anti-polygamy bill is as nothing. The latter only indirectly fireds the mass of the people. The former, either directly or indirectly, may be said to affect every man in the nation. As a rule 4 man takes the greatest interest in what have the products in the case of the people.

his pockat-book. The interstate commerce bill, if enacted into a law, will affect millions of pocket-books, and therefore affect the millions of men who hold them. One of the most striking features brought out in the debate is the different constructions placed upon certain provisions of the bill by different senators. It would seem that if the bill, as agreed to by the senate and honse conference committees, shall become a law it will require the opinion of the bighest judicial tribunal to interpret its meaning. Washington is feverish with axcitement over the expected vote to be taken on the bill to-day.

THE IN IAN SCHOOLS The annual report of the Indian school super intendent, issued as an appendix to the annual report of the commissioner of Indian affairs. has but lately been published. Shelley's Unbappy Schooldays, and Their Influence on His Life.

The Playground of Marie Antoinette-The Children of the Highlands-The Propries Against the Word "Weman ' In one point, a matter of opinion, I differ from Prof. Dowden, whose biography seems to me all that lovers of Shelley, who are also lovers of the trult, could desire Prof. Inowden gives, I thunk, too little prominence to the permanent effect of the persecution and inpermanent effect of the persecution and in-natice of which the schoolboy shelley was the ictim on his character. victim on his character and still more on his siews of life The immediate ras ill of the per recution was that the passed among his school-fellows as a strange unsocni being. He took no interest in the studies of the school he did not july in the games. This was bad enough at Sion house, at was bad enough at Sion house, kinn the persecution was worse, the effects, as Shelley grow older, graver At Fron that contempt for all constituted authority, based on his experience of it, began to show itself in the actions of the youth He was intensely sensitive, and boys quickly He was memery sensitive, and only quitary perceive how they can give pain and are ruthless in indicting it. To be ridiculed and it eated as a parfah was felt by Shelloy far more keenly than any physical terture. We have good evidence that it was the indignity, not the pain of enduring the master's birch, that overwhelmed the sensitive last. Accordingly a "Shelloy bart" the sensitive lim. Accordingly a "sensy bar-became a tecognized amissment of the action. In a passage in the introduction to the "Revolt of Islam" we have the school experience di-turctly assigned as the cause of the crusade ogainst triainy and wrong, of which that poem tinctly assigned as the cause of the crusale against tyrainy and wrong, of which that poem is a part. Experience is a master whose less are not soon forgotten. Authority, the school by Shelley learned in a seven year? servitude, meant tyrainy, and screty, as he saw it in the little world of it on, seemed in wholly evil thing. To a mind so prepared, the wave of revolution ary thought which was at that the still sweeping into highand from Trance came as a force making entirely for justice, light and love. The existing society, it seemed, must be overthrown, and to overthrow the structure its main supports—religion and marriage—and, be cestroyed. Shelley had seen at achool the firth it of stitling at individual persecutors who simply represented the feeling of the whole society. The system which created such tyrainy and wrong he looked to revolutionary thought to dearny, and enthusiastically set himself to forward it e glorious work. Very gradually, by the logic of experience, he learned that religion was intail that he had supposed it to be, but the lattred of constituted authority survived it at Shelley, had he lived, would, without issued to first and part www of life may be fairly in ferred from the progress he had made. Deeply, in truth, though he detised acclessable and acquarted (fristian), be was, in the interparas of his too stor life, a practical desipe of nuch that is peculial to the Christianity of Christ.—In Interpara to the Christianity of Christ.—In Interpret of MARIE ANIONALIA.

It takes whole provinces it supply lovey for one advertising firm in Oxford street, the price is fourfold the price of a quarter of a century ago, and the beasts are hunted with a persistency which in no long time must be father. The Indian government is making efforts to protect the Asiatic breed, but they will all be fulle. Animals which when dead are exceedingly valuable contract a habit of dying, and laws establishing close time are poweriess when it is worth while to run the risk of breaking them. The crocodie's skin is used by smokers and purse makers, and so he will disappear Whatever Kurope wants, Europe will have and if the fashion of turning tigers' claws into brooches had developed and spread to America, ligers would have persibed out. There will so on not be a bird of paradice on earth, and the cellich has only been saved by private breeders. of the respectable portion of the was recently appointed wirden through a bargain made by an and others of the "wallow life etill retains his place despite all the public decaner. He is a his grown loss schemer, who says: "I grown through a me." He was former; them crimen in them are in me."

Some few years ago I was reading a case, re-torted in the newspapers, in which a gentie-man had knocked a cabinan down because he man had knocked a cabman down because he had been impertinent to his wrie, and it appeared from the evidence that the chief insult addressed to the lady by the cabman was that he called her a "woman." This led me to consider, not for the first time, why it was that "woman, applied as a mode of address to any female, is generally considered as an insul. I was reminded the other day again of this perollar sensitiveness on the part of the female sex by another case, reported in the newsprapers, in which, speaking of a butcher, the reporter said "the lady that Mir — married was a barmaid." Apart from the suobb sh tendency to call every person who wears petiticate a lady there is a decided prejudice, almost universally entertained, against addressing any wiman whom we love and respect by what may be called her generic against addressing any wiman whom we love and respect by what may so called her generative. And it will be noted by anyone who has taken the pains to make any careful observation on this subject that this p endice is mainly entertained against the use of the vocative case for instance, none of us would think it derogatory to speak of our wires or mothers as being charming, clever, or beautiful "women." But none of the index he was speaking in anger or in strong rebuke, would address either his mother his wife, or his sister as "woman," and, strongs to say, this projudice does not seem to be of modern date. At a and Queries WHY THE NICHTINGALE SINGS.

The Westphalians have a curious explanatory myth regarding the nightingale. They imagine that the bird's song may be rendered in these spliables of human speech is tit, is tit, is tit, to wit, be wit.—Trity, Trity Trity, to hurch, to hurch. But the last spliables are the usual shephird's cry to his dog when he wishes the sheep collected. Therefore Trity must be the name of the dog to whom the cry to bucht is addressed. Therefore the nightineale must have been a shepherdess, whom a shepherd cursed because she silways posponed the marriage sle had promised. He uttered the wish that the might not sleep till the day of judgment. Nor does she, for may not her voice still to heard at night as she er es to bucht, to bucht to be good de Trity? The same people give a strange enphantion of the face of the shed, or tent to face in the stace in the stace for the stace in the stace for the stace of the stace was treated to there in the originally its face was that the bird's song may be rendered in these

LAMENT FOR TRANSPORT (bath - Warren Stoddard writes No one who has ever since el, non-fred the gennis and the work of I and Jennison can read his last volume 'I acknowledge Hall Sixty Years After," etc., ume 'I ckeley Hall Sixty Years After," etc., without pity and pain—pity, for the enormous without path and pain—pity, for the enormous deboson usder which it was written, and pain, for its woise than worthless character livery quality by which his verse was once distinguished, and which his repeated to the mends and souls of the beautiful which it emba had or suggested, and which it imparted to the minds and souls of its readers, is varished never to return, and with it has exquisite scose of form and the delicate delight of his meiody. What was once the perfection of art, to which no other I right-h poet ever attained, has now become clumpy and slovenly workmanship, and what was the most felicitious style imaginable is now a disagresable manner. There is not a happy phrase from the beginning to the end of this unfortunate book—not a line that is likely to linger in the memory, and the impression that it leaves upon the mind is one of sorrow over the morbid temperament and the gloomy mood from which it has grown, like a night-shade. The misanthropy of Byron is cheerful reading beside the scolding cyniclesn of the new "Locksley Halk," which might have been written by (miyle, if he had possessed the accomplishment of verse, but which never ought to have been written by the anthor of "The Princes," "In Memoriam, and "The Idyls of the King." It is not merely that the spirit of the whole is so brutally contemptuous of mankind I ord Tennyson seems to have attained to the melancholy grandeur of one of the characters in Voltaires, "Landide" (Poco Cuarte, we think it is), of whom some one es in the story remarked, that he must be a great man, since nothing pleased him. The following special report of the real estate market is furnished THE OREGONIAN by J 1 od Clark & Co, real estate agents

An unusually wet week has damped real estate busines care for personal countort his prevented many would be buyers making vielts of inspection. A few successive bright days would be wonderfully stimulating. There is, however, a bright lining to the cloude the copious rains are fructifying the state and all are willing to bear a little present unpleasant nees for future gain. Legislative proceedings attract some attention. Between the governor, who claims infallibity, and a number of legislative bringing forward measures affecting interests of the operation of which they know nothing, we have a show compared with which those of Harnum and Forepaugh pale into insignificance.

The recorded transactions of the past week number 221, amounting to $51,545 bit those of the corresponding week of last your were seventeen and the amount $23,669.

CHAPTER IX.

The he year of our Lord one thousand eight hindred and eighty-three—being "last summer" to the date of these records—two public events took place in New England, which were of interest to the reader of this story.

The first was the exhibition of a Vermont academy, which has been vaguely known upon these pages as "the academy in the town where Uncle John lived." The name of the town, strictly speaking, was Repose, and the name of the institution was Repose academy it was exhibition day, as I say, at the Repose academy It was a pleasant day, and the village was full HOUSE.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Hammond of Georgia, from the committee on judiciary, reported back adversely the resolution calling on the attorney-general to furnish information as to the legal authority under which the directors of the Union Pactic Bailway company consolidated that company with the Kaness Pacific Railroad company and the Denver Pacific Railroad company and reorganized the same under the name of the Union Pacific Railroad company, and under which this last-named company issued stock and trust loans, laid on the table.

The report accompanying the resolution states that the information desired will be obtained if the joint resolution which passed the house a few days ago for an investigation of the accounts of the Pacific railroads shall become a law and that for eventy years, from Wirt to Garland, it has been uniformly held that the al-courts of the Pacific ratiroads shall become a law, and that for seventy years, from Wirt to Garland, it has been uniformly held that the altorney general cannot legally give opinions when called opon by congress or its committees.

THE HAWAHAN THEATY

Wallace of Louisana offered a resolution, which was adopted, rectiting that the president and senate have agreed to and ratified a convention, by which the terms of the treaty between the linked States and the government of the Hawahan Islands has been extended seven pears, and that the treaty cont. Is provisions for the admission of certain articles free: I duty and insurroting the committee on juliciary to inquire into these facts and report to the house whether a treaty, which involves a rate of duty to be imposed on any article, can be ve id and inding without the concurrence of the house of representatives.

to be imposed on any article, can be valid and inding without the concurrence of the house of representatives.

The house concurred in the senate a nead ments forfeiting the land grant of the Raton Ronge & Vicksbärg radroad.

Hill of Ohlo, from the committee on territories, reported back adversely the bilt upon land communication with the territory of Alaska laid on the table.

During the morning nour the bill increasing the rate of pension allowed for total deatness to $20 a month was put to a vote. The opponents of the bill retrained from voting and left the house without a quorum and in this condition it remained till the morning hour expired, and the bill went over without action.

Willis of Kentucky, moved that the house go into committee of the whole for the further consideration of the river and harbor appropriation bill agreed to—reas 108, may 11 A motion to key on the table a motion to reconsider this vote necessitated another roll call, and then the house went into committee of the whole After a short discussion the general debate was closed, the committee rose and the house adjourned.

What They Owe the Sovernment and how Long it will Take Them to Fey up?

WASHINGTON, Jan 22.—The secretary of the treasury orders are not communication to the speaker of the house of representatives in an swert to the house resolution of almulary 20 Mr Outhwaite's resolution, asking what some of meney were owing from the bond satisfated Pachic railroad companies to the United States on the first day of January, 1837, and the sum which are due, polacupai and interest, under the arising law, severally and intervely from said companies, and what will be the rasult of the treasury and the affect upon these debts, if house bill No. 8318 abould Lorno a law and its provisions be compiled with The secretary states that the amount due from the several Pacific railroad companies for interest paid by the United States to January 1, 1837, on subsidy bonds issued to said companies for interest paid by the United States to January 1, 1837, on subsidy bonds issued to said companies at that date the sum of $1,502, 144, leaving due on account of interest the sam of $49,802,181. There will be due on the same account at the maturity of the subsidy bonds September 11, 1837, the further sum of $13, 404,921, making a total of $92,791,106 to become due on account of interest, and also to become due on account of interest, and also to become due on account of the principal of these bonds it maturity the sum of $64 b23,512, making an aggregate indebtedness the and to become due in the second of the principal of these bonds if maturity the sum of $64 b23,512, making an aggregate indebtedness the and to become a law and its provisions be compiled with?" the secretary states that the present What They Owe the Sovernment and how Long It will Take Them to Poy up 1 "What will be the result to the tressury and the effect upon those debts if H. B. No. 333 should become a law and its provisions be compiled with?" the secretary states that the present worth of the indebtedness of the several companies on October 1, 1885, ascertained as prescribed in the hill, is $103 403 $21. The constant semi-samual payment required to cancel the present worth of the indebtedness above mentioned, principal and interest, in the required number of years, valued as the rate of 3 per cent. per annuar, reinvested semi-annually, is $1,268,057. The constant semi-annually semi-annually payment above mentioned semi-annual payment is sufficient, if reinvested semi-annually, to any at the rate of 2.952 per cent. per annum on the said present worth, or at that rate to extinguish the principal and interect of the debt mereonty years. In view of certain provisions of the act of May 7, 1878, commonly known as the Thurman law, establishing a sunking fund for the Union and Contral Pundiff Ballroad companies, it may be proper to consider whether the sinking fund now held in trust by the United States should be treated as an offset in determining the net indebtedness due the government from those companies. It should be mentioned, however, that a condition of the bill is, that its provisions shall be accepted by the companies interested."

PLEURO-PYZUMONIA.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—DeWitt W Smith, president of the National Cattle (growers association, and heesra. Towers, of Kansas City, and Sanders, of Chicago, had an interview with President Cleveland to-day in relation to the pleuro-posumonia bill now pending in congress. They represented to the president that the consolidated cattle interests of the country, including the proprietors of the Chicago stock yards, had united in preparing the bill looking to the suppression of pleuro-pneumonia among cattle which had been introduced in the senate and house. The provisions of the bill were proper ly explained to the president, who exhibited much interest in the subject and promised to give it careful consideration.

WASHINGTON, Jan 22. — Attornsy-General Garland has given an opinion to the secretary of the treasury in regard to the classification of iron ora. He says the question as to whether iron ore dried at 211 degrees Fahrenheit is or is not iron ore of commerce is a question of fact which he cannot he expected to decide. In summing his views he says where a clear preponderance of the evidence cannot be addiced, departmental construction, tacitly approved by congressional recognition, should turn the scale and be accepted as sufficient evidence of legislative intent.

The resignations of Sir Alexander (ampbell, postmaster general, W. A. Mct. islan, minister of finance, and John (asti gan minister of internal revenue, offered some days ago on account of differences with the aged pranier over dissolution, as well as matters of state, up to this time have not been accepted. For the last week these officers have refused to attend the meetings of the cabinet. This a time the part of the secoding ministers was halled with delight by the liberals as indicating the weakness of Sir John a Macdonal is cause Yesterday come the heaviest blow of all to the government when James A. Chapisan, secretary if state, handed his resignation to Sir John and intimated to his chieftain that hereafter their political fortunes lay in opposite directions. This means that the searchary will got t quebec and lead the nationalists, thus hadding the bulance of power between the conservatives and liberals in the next house. In this way Chaplean will accomplish the continue of Sir John, whose place he may then hill, baving all bend with at his back.

A FINANCIAL FRANSACTI IN

New York Jan 22—The stories in regard to the alleged defalcation of Hooking Valley securities were in circulation again to-day, but seem to have little foundation. The facts, so far as can be learned, are as follows. The commany horders, the Columbius, Hocking Valley & Toledo, and the Columbius coal and from company. During the long strike the road ran in debt over $1,000,000 which the directors advanced. They borrowed money on their individual responsibility, and accepted the cumpanys notes as security. The Jun bonds held in the treasury were unsaleable, and they could do nothing with them, but they were issued to secure the notes, and the directors received them and returned the notes, which were then canceled.
